I need to remove it so that it no longer asks me for permissions, I did the steps 1 - 3 in the steps above, but it does not seem to work. I have a domain with Windows 7 and want to change the users profile picture. The default profile pictures look horrible so I want to replace the "avatar" with a picture from the users profile folder (say mypictures folder). I have an MSDN account on Windows 7, but I am unable to access my Windows Live ID there. I tried logging in with my Google account, but all the accounts I have on Google are disabled on MSDN. I have also tried logging into Windows Live ID with my own Google account, but this too has no effect. I can access my MSDN account on Windows Live ID just fine. I am trying to get a Microsoft Licence Key so I can activate Windows 7 pro. When I try to get a Window 8 Key the software gives me an error. It says the key is not valid. I have tried 2 things, downloading the link that Microsoft provides on the Microsoft Website, I also copied the product Key from the licence agreement. When I go to download Windows Live Mail it asks for my Live ID. I have done the step 2, which was to give it my email and a password. I even tried giving it my username, which it did not use. It just stuck at
