- Fantastic interface: simple and easy to use - All the relevant data is entered in the database - Compatible with all Windows versions - Pending records list to access babies - Notifications sent to the secretary

NewBaby Review: - Fantastic interface: simple and easy to use - All the relevant data is entered in the database - Compatible with all Windows versions - Pending records list to access babies - Notifications sent to the secretary - Watermark option - Drawings can be imported/exported - All the fields are editable - Save's the information for later viewing - Fixed the problem of list overlapping - Also the option to search for a patient's name. - Perfect for hospitals and centers to track patients

I've been using New Baby for several years in my organization. I do not understand how the application can not even send a note to the secretary, yet it is very clear and accurate. And you can use this app as your son can! I love this app!!!

In the version 14.0 there is an error, it is necessary to delete the folders from the location: C:\ProgramData\New Baby\Versionen\Versionen

After I entered data to the application and the staff, it is necessary to repair to make the work of the application to work correctly

New Baby is an accessible and intuitive program that comes in handy especially for delivery rooms, nurses, and doctors, to enter and manage relevant information about numerous new babies, and be notified about pending records. Pay attention to each step in the document, to correctly set up the database

The app itself is not complicated, however, the installation process requires a suite of important steps that can be found in the extracted folder. Make sure you follow each stage carefully, as one wrong move can make the tool unresponsive and unable to run. Plus, Access Runtime is needed on your hard drive, along with all its related components.

New Baby is wrapped in a simplistic and self-explanatory interface that can be accessed even by those less experienced. It consists of a single window, with all the necessary fields and options in plain sight. To create a new entry, simply fill in the required details, such as patient room and name, social security ID, mother's blood type, born date and time, along with the gender, weight and height, and the admittance. In addition, you can enter, if the patient did any kind of anesthesia (e.g. spinal, epidural, gen, local), the baby's doctor, and delivery type. Enter relevant information and manage babies
